

Thursdays at Legrand Théâtre : L'improbable destin d'Emilie de l'Ain

Thursday
27
FEBRUARY

20H30 | 20,00 € per person/

Written by and starring: Emilie Sansano
Stage design and direction: Christine Larivière des Dieselles

"The Unlikely Destiny of Emilie from Ain" is the bright portrait of a little girl who grows up to be a physics and chemistry professor. Atoms and lab equipment have long since revealed their secrets to her, but man remains an inexhaustible field of study. A funny, tender one-woman show blending song and comedy.

In association with the wine grower:
Thierry Valette
Clos Puy Arnaud, 33350 Belvès-de-Castillon

Thierry Valette is an accomplished artist. Up until the year 2000, he lived out his passion for modern dance and jazz, before taking root in Clos Puy Arnaud in the heart of the rising AOC Côtes de Castillon. As the fourth generation of the Valette wine growers, he came full circle back to wine with a true production philosophy: to find a balance between the finesse and elegance of Grand Crus and the current demand for fruity, fresh tastes. In short, he aims to create wines that are easy to enjoy young, but that have great ageing potential. His determination to capture the energy of a terroir and to reproduce it through tastes and aromas has brought him to work his vineyards alongside Anne Caldéroni, using biodynamic agriculture methods.

Wines tasted:

Clos Puy Arnaud - Cuvée Pervenche 2012 - AOC Castillon
Côtes de Bordeaux

Clos Puy Arnaud 2011 - AOC Castillon Côtes de Bordeaux

Participation: € 20
